Christoph Wolff at the Organ Library in February

The Organ Library has invited the noted Bach scholar Christoph Wolff to offer a presentation at the Library on Monday evening, February 25, 2008.

Professor Wolff, who is Adams University Professor at Harvard, will speak on "J. S. Bach and the Organ: New Perspectives on an Old Subject." His illustrated lecture will begin at 7:30 PM at the School of Theology, Boston University (745 Commonwealth Avenue); it will be followed by a reception at the Organ Library on the basement level of the STH building. There will be a small display of Bachiana from the Library's holdings. More details will be provided in the February Newsletter.

Scholarships for Organ Lessons

The Young Organists Initiative offers free organ lessons, an 18 month membership in the Guild (which includes receiving our Newsletter and The American Organist Magazine each month), as well as a gift certificate to a music store for new music.

The auditions will be held at 11 am on Saturday, January 26, 2008 at St. Paul Church (the Archdiocesan Choir School), Bow and Arrow Streets, in Cambridge. The audition consists of demonstrating keyboard skill on either organ or piano and is open to those who have never received a YOI Scholarship in the past. Applicants must be 12-18 years of age or in Grades 6-12. We showcase the scholarship winner in two recitals: at First Parish in Lexington on Friday, June 27, 2008 at 12 noon and at King's Chapel in Boston on Tuesday, July 1, 2008 at 12:15 pm. This is a splendid opportunity for young people interested in the pipe organ.

Message from Donald Funk, Regional Coordinator of Professional Development

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself as the newly appointed Region I Coordinator for Professional Development.

I am here to assist, coach, or give some clarity to many of the non-musical aspects of our profession (although I would prefer to stay out of the potentially thorny question of what color the new choir robes should be).

An important aspect of my duties is to be available to chapters and individual members to help interpret and apply the AGO's Code of Ethics, Code of Professional Standards, Grievance Procedures and the Discipline. (The latter is a procedure to be used when an AGO member feels it necessary to file a complaint against another member for a violation of the Code of Ethics.)

I am here also to be of assistance in exploring the content and scope of a musician's contract (using the AGO's model contract as a point of departure).

Boston Chapter members should feel comfortable with contacting me directly at 860-231-8197 or dfnkjr@comcast.net.

I believe very strongly in the Guild's ability to help its membership in a variety of ways and in its ability to raise the level of our overall professionalism. This sweeping point should not be underestimated as we look for ever-increasing respect within the arts, and as we seek to communicate and display our inherent value as church employees.

Sincerely yours,

-- Donald

Requiescat in Pace

Chapter member Craig Smith, the conductor and pianist who founded Emmanuel Music and built it into a cherished hub of Boston's musical life, died November 14. He was 60.

Mr. Smith founded Emmanuel Music in 1970 as the resident ensemble at Emmanuel Church, but his ambitious vision quickly established that this would be much more than a church group. Over the first seven years of Emmanuel Music's existence, Mr. Smith conducted a complete cycle of Bach cantatas, the first cycle of its kind in the country. The habit stuck and a weekly Bach cantata has been part of the Sunday morning service at Emmanuel Church for 37 years. Mr. Smith led his last cantata on Nov. 4. It was BWV 72, Alles nur nach Gottes Willen ("Everything According to God's Will Alone").

While Bach dominated the ethos of Emmanuel Music, Mr. Smith also led the US premieres of several Handel operas in their uncut versions. He led the choral works of Heinrich Schütz and programmed large surveys of the chamber and vocal music of Schubert, Brahms, Debussy, Ravel, and Schumann. In the 1980s, he collaborated with Peter Sellars in iconoclastic productions of Mozart's Da Ponte operas, stagings that have been performed internationally and released on DVD.

Mr. Smith was born in Lewiston, Idaho, in 1947. He began piano at 4 but was involved in music even earlier. In 1967, he attended a summer program run by New England Conservatory and decided he would transfer to that school. His formative teachers included Russell Sherman and the violinist Rudolf Kolisch, with whom he studied chamber music. Mr. Smith was still an undergraduate when he joined the choir at Emmanuel Church. At just 21, he was offered the job as director.

Over the years, he assembled an excellent orchestra and chorus of devoted local musicians who were seemingly drawn to the joyful purity of his music-making. He had a wide-ranging musical intellect and a gift for dreaming up large-scale projects, such as a 51-concert Schubert cycle that took seven seasons to complete.

Speaking of Emmanuel Music in a 1981 Globe Magazine interview, Mr. Smith put it simply: "There is not much room to do more. Our job is just to do better."
