Chapter Programs

Monday, October 9, 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.
Columbus Day in Cambridge

Just as Christopher C. had to change course occasionally in his explorations, so do the committee planning our day of exploring new ideas in our music making! We are still in Cambridge, and still with three well-known Boston chapter members leading workshops that should be of interest to all. So bring your curiosity, your questions, and your suggestions! Fill out and return the registration form, or send email to ridgway@mit.edu to reserve your place and pay at the door. Below is the schedule for the day, and details on the workshops.

9 - 9:30 Registration

First Church Congregational, 11 Garden Street

9:30 - 10:30 Refresh Your Wedding Repertoire

Do you get bored playing the same few pieces for every wedding? Heinrich Christensen leads off with a look at new ideas for wedding repertoire. Heinrich also invites discussion on pressing issues around wedding music, such as how to steer couples toward suitable selections, and how to minimize irritation of the organist (you!). Bring your own ideas for music, and your questions and anecdotes about what works and what doesn't.

10:45 - 11:45 Anyone can improvise!

No matter what your experience, or non-experience, in improvisational music-making, Peter Krasinki presents three perspectives that lead toward practical application:

- 1) An overview of musical practice from a theoretical and historical viewpoint.
- 2) Determining what your improvisation is for (service playing and voluntaries, hymns and service music, recitals, competitions).
- 3) Choosing a form to try, improve upon, and perfect.

Peter's friendly, supportive manner will be an encouragement to get on the bench in this hands-on workshop.

Walk to Memorial Church, Harvard Yard

12:00 - 1:00 Lunch (included in registration)
Buttrick Room, Memorial Church

1:00 - 2:00 Bringing Hymn-Singing to Life, or ...
...Considerations for the Assembly's Song Leader who happens to be an Organist. Michael Kleinschmidt's provocative title is meant to remind us that we have the awesome responsibility to lead people, not only in the music of hymn singing, but most importantly, to the meaning of the words. In this session, Michael explores practical ideas for our role as hymn leaders.

2:15 - 3:30 Hymn Fest!

Wrapping up our explorations, Michael Kleinschmidt and Peter Krasinski put into practice what they preach, with an old-fashioned (or maybe really new-fashioned) hymn sing. With a selection of old standards as well as more recent hymns, we will sing, and hear improvisations and varied accompaniments.

Directions: Taking the MBTA buses or Red Line subway to Harvard Square station is recommended. Street parking at meters. Garden Street (First Church) runs by Cambridge Common.

Dean's Message

Just in case some of you forgot or never knew:

The purpose of the AGO is to promote the organ in its historic and evolving roles, to encourage excellence in the performance of organ and choral music, and to provide a forum for mutual support, inspiration, education, and certification of Guild members.

In the last few years, the Boston Chapter has done a fair amount of "encouraging excellence in the performance of organ and choral music", notably in our 2005 Centennial Celebration with excellent guests such as the Westminster Abbey Choir, Maitres Olivier Latry, Jon Gillock, Bruce Neswick, and in 2006 the ever courageous Michel Bouvard performing in a blizzard.

This month, we turn our attention to "providing a forum for mutual support, inspiration, education" as we host a mini-convention on Columbus Day around the Cambridge Common. This is a format that has been successful in the past, and we're excited to revisit it and use some of our internal resources in the chapter. Several chapter members have mentioned the desire for some more hands-on programs directly relevant to the everyday work of an organist - rather than simply showing up to ooh, ah, and applaud a visiting virtuoso. Hopefully, the programs planned for October 9 will provide some ideas that can be immediately applied to some aspect of your day-to-day activities.

The ever inspirational Michael Kleinschmidt will lead a session on "Bringing Hymn-Singing to Life", and the award-winning Peter Krasinski will provide the support and education in leading us to accept his maxim "Anyone can improvise!"

Yours truly will throw in my two cents by fueling a fiery debate on wedding repertoire and related issues. You are highly encouraged to add more fuel by bringing your own brilliant ideas to the roundtable. A huge advantage to this event is that we'll have a church full of experts on the subject at hand. So don't be bashful.

We'll end the festivities with a rousing hymn festival in Memorial Church.

Don't forget to sign up for the day by e-mailing the valiant sub-dean Lee Ridgway at ridgway@mit.edu – he will even get your lunch. All of this for a mere pittance of $30.

As we embark on a new season of making music in many contexts, this is a great way to break up our daily routine and get some new ideas for some of the basic elements of our work.

See you on Columbus Day,

-- Heinrich

Organ Library NewsA Milestone Reached

Over the summer work was completed on the Webcatalog, a database containing virtually all of the music holdings of the Organ Library of the Boston Chapter. Over the next few months, the Instructional Technology Department of Boston University will convert this database into a series of search pages that will allow anyone with access to a computer to search the contents of the Library. It will be possible, for example to search according to composer, arranger, title, presence of a specific hymntune, etc. The database, created by volunteers Anita Nagem, Wendy Covell, and Joseph Dyer, with assistance from Barbara Swist, includes the contents of all multi-composer collections—a total of over 16,000 works that would be difficult to find without this massive index.

The Organ Library constantly solicits donations of organ music, recordings, and books about the organ and its music. (See the Library's classified advertisement in The American Organist.) Before Chapter member Elaine Baum moved to the West Coast, she donated her library of organ music and a fine selection of organ recordings. Hundreds of items have also been recently added to the Catherine Crozier archive, and we hope soon to have the complete organ works of Nancy Plummer Faxon.

Wanted: An older VHS player with just two outputs ending in RCA jacks: needed to be combined with a television already owned by the Library.

Hoose Recording

Chapter member Alfred Hoose's Excursions for solo viola and orchestra (1993), with Karen Dreyfus as viola soloist and the Silesian Philharmonic Orchestra under Jerzy Swoboda, is included on a newly released CD American Journeys, #2124 on the MMC label.

Young Organists Auditions and Pedals, Pipes and Pizza

BAGO's own Young Organists Initiative announces the Fall Pedals, Pipes and Pizza on Saturday, October 28, 2006.

We begin at 10:00 AM at First Congregational Church, 11 Garden Street, Cambridge. Then we will proceed to Christ Church at Zero Garden Street where we will also have lunch and hold auditions for the YOI Scholarships. Please bring organ shoes and music to play on each of the organs and to audition for scholarships on organ or piano.

The applicants for scholarships may only be first-time applicants (however, anyone may join the organ crawl). Application information appears in the box below. Young people ages 12 to 18 or grades 6 through 12 are eligible. Keyboard skills are required but no previous organ study is necessary.

The scholarships include free lessons, a gift certificate to a music store and an 18 month membership in the Guild. All young people are invited to attend with parents and/or their teachers. The event is free.

Call or e-mail John Dunn (617-868-8658 x319 or jdunnatbacs@hotmail.com) for reservation.

The American Guild Of Organists - Boston Chapter
Young Organists Initiative Scholarship Application

Please provide a letter or e-mail to John Dunn with the following the following information:

Student's Name, Parent (or legal guardian), Address, Telephone, E-mail, Student's Date of Birth, Grade in school.

Years of study in Organ, Piano, other instruments. Primary Music/Instrument Teacher's Name and Telephone..

Audition Instrument (ORGAN or PIANO), and works to be performed (please include both composers and titles).

Why do you want to study the organ?

How did you hear about the scholarship auditions?

Have you attended any of the "Y.O.I.'s" activities in the past? If so, please elaborate.
