End of the Year Message from the SubDean

When I taught elementary school music, my two goals were that the children all would learn to sing and learn to listen to music. My goal this past year as Chapter SubDean was to have many Chapter members involved with our programs, attending, planning and presenting. So many of you have done this, and I thank each one of you genuinely and sincerely. With a total of 10 programs (including Organ Spectacular, First Night and Bach Birthday 324), it is possible that 2,000 people attended one or more of our events this year!

As organists we need this AGO organization through which we support one another, continue our learning, make friends and collectively are an influence in the future of sacred music in the greater Boston area. We want clergy and church/temple lay leaders to know firsthand that the AGO is both a gold standard organization and a highly active group. We can do this in our individual and group choices that create the future for our Chapter.

I am resigning wistfully, having completed only one year as SubDean. Thank you all who have sent me messages of appreciation. Mine has been a great experience in this one year because your participation and the content of every program have left me feeling exhilarated. Many of us have learned that the AGO becomes important, valuable and enjoyable to us when we are active in our membership. This past year I have seen numerable opportunities when members could step in and make a difference. If every member will channel some of your creativity to this Chapter, we will see amazing results. I have found that it's good "life therapy" too. After this year of constant AGO work, I feel better about myself and I am more healed from some of life's hard experiences. I'll continue to be active in our Chapter. In that favorite hymn, Ye holy angels bright, read these lines: "and with a well-tuned heart sing thou the songs of love! Let all thy days till life shall end, whate'er he send, be filled with praise." Our concerns for music go on every day!

Thank you, everyone who helped with programs and the Newsletter this year. It's surprising and magnificent how long the list is. I am grateful to you all. For names that I omit accidentally from the following list, please let me know and I will send a follow-up list for the September newsletter. My thanks especially to:

L Abbott, J Ambrosino, M Angelini, R Barney, R Benefield, G Bozeman, S Budwey, B Bush, D Carrier, L Carson, C Chaisson, H Christensen, J D Christie, M Dwyer, J Dyer, Executive Committee members, Q Faulkner, First Lutheran Church of Boston Concert Committee, G Goda, B Goodwin, B Greenberg, F Guzasky, T Handel, C Higbe, K Hartung, Harvard Art Museum, Harvard Organ Society, E Huenneke, T Hughes, J Hunt, B Jerold, B Karosi, H Kelton, C Klein, M. ## Chapter Election Results

The following are the results of our recent election. The Chapter thanks everyone for taking part in this process. Those who were not elected may still be asked to fill a vacancy or serve on a committee.

475 ballots were mailed, and 212 were returned.

Congratulations to those elected:

Treasurer: Kirk Hartung

Membership Secretary: Timothy Hughes

Registrar: Dan McKinley

Recording Secretary: Kirsten Johnson

(Two) Auditors: Craig Smith, Martin Steinmetz

(Four) Executive Committee Members:

Kathleen Adams, R. Harrison Kelton, Christian Lane, Nadia Stevens

Dean's Message

Our "End of Year" - Almost

Usually, the Boston Chapter folds its tent once June arrives. This summer, however, is different: the Boston Chapter hosts an AGO regional convention! If you receive this issue before June 1st, and haven't yet registered for the convention, you may still do so. If you receive this after June 1st, and haven't registered, well ...

Speaking on behalf of the Chapter: Thank you to the convention committee, chaired by Michael Kleinschmidt, for your time and dedication to creating a marvelous, musical event!

SubDean(s) Pro Tem

When an elected Chapter officer steps down during his or her term, the Chapter's operating procedures allow for the appointment of an interim by the Executive Committee to fill the uncompleted term. Having followed that procedure, it is with great pleasure I announce that Larry Carson and Glenn Goda have agreed to serve as interim co-subdeans for the remaining year of Joyce Painter Rice's term. In actuality, Larry will be designated as SubDean pro tempore for the official records, but he and Glenn will be working together and with the program committee on planning events for next season. Larry and Glenn have been long-time, active members of the Chapter, each serving in several elected positions and on committees over the years, including subdean and dean, so they have all the requisite experience. Please let them know of ideas or requests you may have for a program, and please let them know when you will be available to help out.

Because this is an interim appointment, neither Larry nor Glenn will automatically succeed to the deanship, as is the usual custom in the BAGO. This will make for an interesting election next year, as we will need multiple nominees for both subdean and dean. You will hear more about that come next season!

Yearbook

As for the yearbook, Jim and Barbara Swist, who now produce the BAGO newsletter, have agreed to take on production of the yearbook. Thank you! Looking to decrease costs, we are doing a less "slick" publication and probably of a simpler design and simpler process. In no way will this decrease the usefulness of the book! Member advertisers will find the ad form in this issue, and non-member advertisers will be contacted for renewal of their ads. If you haven't advertised before, think of doing so, as ad revenue covers most of the cost of the yearbook.

On that note: Have a great, relaxing, music-filled summer!

-- Lee Ridgway

Membership Renewal

Membership renewal notices for the 2009-10 year have been mailed to all members. If you haven't received yours, contact Tim Hughes, Membership Secretary, at 781-369-1905 or thughes56@comcast.net. Your renewal form and check MUST be received back by July 1 to ensure that you're included in the Chapter yearbook. After that date, no guarantee!

The Young Organists Recitals are Coming!

The Annual YOI scholarship winners will appear in recital at King's Chapel, Boston on Tuesday, June 23, 2009 at 12:15 pm. King's Chapel is on the corner of Tremont and School Streets in Boston. We have five young organists who will perform.

Then on Friday, June 26, 2009 they will appear in the regular Noontime recital series at First Parish in Lexington, 7 Harrington Road. Do come to hear and support these students who are discovering our marvelous profession.

The Young Organists Initiative is supported by the Boston AGO Chapter, several area churches, individuals and Spectrum Music in Lexington.

Notice to All PayPal and Early Registrants of the Landmarks 2009 AGO Convention

If you registered via PayPal online or if you were one of the very early prepaid registrants, you will need to submit registration forms indicating your status (regular member, special member, student member, etc) as well as to sign up for the gala buffet ($40.00) or the Methuen trip on Saturday ($30.00) as well as fill out your preferences for the workshops. You may obtain these forms at www.AGOBoston2009.com along with a schedule of events. Please fill these out and send to: Mary Sue Willie, Registrar, 41 Hillcrest Road, Concord, MA 01742 as soon as possible.

Advertising 2009-2010

The back page ad space is available at $85 for every month next season except October. You may reserve space now for the 2009-2010 season - it goes fast and I regularly turn down many requests. There is a limit of two back page ads for any one organization per season.

Thoughts on the Summer Organ Concerts at Methuen and Old West

For the past few summers I have finally managed to attend many programs of the weekly concert series at Methuen Memorial Music Hall, and at Old West Church in Boston. I felt moved to write to my colleagues about some of my observations about these two programs.

As a regular participant in the conventions of the Organ Historical Society, and having traveled to Europe many times to hear organs, I feel like a seasoned organ listener. With these summer series, however, is the opportunity to hear many different players play the same organ week after week, allowing us to hear how each artist brings his or her own unique flair to the instrument, and this can inspire us and teach us much about our own Sunday morning efforts, week after week.

The artistry at Methuen this summer has been particularly fine, displaying each musician's style for phrasing and registration. We have heard broad, rich phrasing and seen dazzling technique. We have heard the instrument display its German roots, its English/American adaptations, and even a French accent at times. We have been treated to old favorite repertoire, as well as being exposed to some never heard before (at least by me) and heard two Vierne Symphonies in their entirety. Certainly some players and programs have appealed to me more than others, but there has been at least a few moments in each that have moved me, and many that have enlightened me.

The wonderful hall in Methuen affords us the opportunity to see the player. I noticed two different artists on consecutive weeks with extremely varying techniques, drawing remarkably different sounds from the Walcker Organ. One kept tight parallel lines with his body as he played while the other was wide and rather splayed and yet both played with equal accuracy, having developed technique and a musical style that works for them. I have tried to learn from what I see and hear, while remaining open to new ideas.

I have known the incredible Fisk Organ at Old West Church in Boston much more intimately, having played it several times over the years and studied on it way back when. No two players bring the same results from it, and yet it does have a distinctly beautiful tone all its own. Last night was my first time hearing it since the room has had a beautiful refurbishing. Perhaps it is from the filling in of all those ancient cracks in the plaster but I found that the organ sounded remarkably different to me, and I couldn't help but wish that I could hear it again and again this summer, but alas, those schedule conflicts and travel plans!

Longy Groups Auditioning Singers

At Longy School of Music, two vocal groups are currently auditioning singers for next fall. Auditions will continue over the summer.

As part of the Continuing Studies Program:

Early Music Vocal Ensemble
group will find a convenient time to meet starting in September

Cristi Catt will share her experiences as a member of the renowned vocal ensemble Tapestry in this course. Singers will prepare a program drawing on Medieval and early Renaissance vocal works tailored to the specific singers of the ensemble. The group will dive deeply into all aspects of ensemble singing to express the colors, shapes, and contours of this fascinating body of music and poetry. Audition required.

As Part of the Preparatory Studies Program at Longy:

Longy A Cappella
meets Saturday afternoons starting in September

Join your voice in harmony! Longy is looking for interested young singers to assemble a select group to perform a cappella literature and standardized small group vocal music including world, jazz, pop and show tunes. The group will perfect its sound and perform in concert fashion in and outside of the school environment. This group is open to instrumentalists and singers. Audition required. Ages 14–18.

Include: day, date, time, brief description of program, location, address, phone number, price (or donation/free), and whether handicap-accessible.

A Boston Organist's Saga – Chapter VI

The alarm clock rings on Mayor Menino's bedside stand. As he rubs his eyes and struggles into consciousness he remembers that today's the day the proposal to place statues of Johann Sebastian Bach and Felix Mendelssohn on the Commonwealth Avenue Mall will be discussed at City Hall. He begins composing his response:

"First of all, there's no more room left on the Commonwealth Mall unless you want to replace the sidewalks with statues. Secondly, this is one of the most prosperous parts of Boston and needs no further help from the city. And, finally, we've got to do something to help Jamaica Plain recover its former glory. Does anyone have some ideas for that?"

Later that day at City Hall, after hearing the words that the Mayor had composed in bed that morning, Lois Regestein was stunned for a moment. She had been dreaming of the statues on the Commonwealth Mall ever since she thought of it while listening to the magnificent Hook organ in Berlin's Holy Cross Church. But the Mayor had a point — actually several points. And no one loved Jamaica Plain more than Lois Regestein. Suddenly she spoke, "Mayor Menino, perhaps you're right. There are plenty of statues on Commonwealth Avenue. And besides, Bach and Mendelssohn aren't exactly Boston citizens even though their spirits spend a lot of time here. How about a couple of statues honoring two of Jamaica Plain's most distinguished residents, Elias and George G. Hook, placed prominently in the center of Jamaica Plain?"

Just at that moment a shocked looking aide strode swiftly to the Mayor's side and whispered in his ear...

Note: Thank you, George Bozeman, organ builder (visit a fine instrument of his at St. Paul's, Brookline), performer and historian — for penning this chapter. An active member of the Boston and New Hampshire AGO chapters, George is a frequent contributor to The Diapason, The American Organist and The Tracker. Don't miss his great reviews of recent CDs.

I began this story in our December newsletter in hopes that it would entice more members to read the newsletter. If you go back and reread the five previous chapters, you'll see some of the tremendous collective creativity within our chapter. I hope the Saga will continue. Please send the next chapter to the newsletter Editor or the new SubDean. Leave the final sentence unfinished, to be a starting point for the next writer. Thank you.
